Türk veya Türkiyeli?
Turkey’s Redefinition of Citizenship:
Tracing Changes over Time

The presentation will deal with the current understanding of citizenship in Turkey’s constitution and its historical origins. Briefly touching upon the legal practices of nation-building in the republic’s early years and the later implications of harmonizing Turkey’s legislature with the EU’s Copenhagen Criteria, we will take a look at how the citizenship debate is being used as a primary element in the current peace process between Kurdistan’s Workers Party (KCK/PKK) and the Republic of Turkey.
