From Social Movement to Social Change?

Series: Palgrave Studies in Communication for Social Change

- Analyses Turkey's role within a global context
- Explores matters surrounding the Gezi protests and the aftermath
- Contributes from an interdisciplinary perspective that together produce and interesting and diverse analysis

This edited volume addresses various aspects of social and political development in Turkey and the latter's role within a global context. Paradigmatically and theoretically, it is situated in the realm of communication and/or social change. The chapters thread together to present a fresh and innovative study that explores an array of issues related to the Gezi protests and their aftermath by scholars and activists from Scandinavia, Turkey and India. Through its thorough analysis of the government's repressive policy and the communication strategies of resistance, during the protests as well as in the dramatic on-going aftermath, the volume has wide international and interdisciplinary appeal, suitable for those with an interest in globalization, communication and media, politics, and social change.

Oscar Hemer is Professor in Journalistic and Literary Creation at Malmö University, Sweden, and co-director of Ørecomm Centre for Communication and Glocal Change.

Hans-Åke Persson is Professor in Modern European History at Roskilde University in Denmark.
